

THE WAR

Holy Father Appeals to Belligerents to End Horrible Conflict.

Implores Cessation of Carnage That Dishonors European Nations.

Hopes People May Soon Become Brothers in Peaceful Pursuits.

TRANSMITTING SAD HERITAGE

The Associated Press of Saturday gives the text of the peace appeal just issued by Pope Benedict, which reads as follows:

"When we were called to succeed to the apostolic throne of Pope Pius X, whose upright and exemplary life was brought to an end by the fratricidal struggle which broke out in Europe, we, too, felt—after gazing fearfully upon the bloody battlefield—the despair of a father who witnesses his people's slaughter and ravaged by a furious tempest. We thought with inexpressible sorrow of our young sons cut down by death; we felt in our heart, enlarged by Christian charity, the great unspeakable sadness of mothers and of wives made widows before their time, and the tears of children deprived too soon of parental guidance. We thought of the millions of the people in the fear and anguish of innumerable families, and well knowing the imperial duties imposed upon us by the mission of peace and love with which we have confided during these sad days, we adopted a firm resolve to concentrate our whole activity and all our power to the reconciliation of the peoples at war. We made a solemn promise to our Divine Father who wished with the price of his blood to make all men brothers. Words of peace and love were the first we addressed to the nations and their chiefs as the supreme guardian of their souls. Our affectionate and insistent counsels as father and friend were not heard. This increased our sadness, but did not shake our resolution. We continue with confidence to appeal to the All Powerful, who holds in his hand the minds and hearts of the peoples as well as kings, imploring them to end the great scourge. In our humble but ardent prayer, we want to include all the faithful, and to make it more effective, we have taken care that it be accompanied by works of Christian penitence. Today, on the sad anniversary of the terrible conflict, our heart gives forth the wish that the war will soon end. We raise again our voice to utter a fatherly cry for peace. May this cry, dominating the frightful noise of arms, reach the warring peoples and their chiefs and induce kindly and more serene intentions. In the name of the Lord God; in the name of the Father and Lord in heaven; in the name of the Blessed Blood of Jesus—the price of the redemption of humanity—we implore the belligerent nations before Divine Providence henceforth to end the horrible carnage, which for a year has been dishonoring Europe.

"This is the blood of brothers that is being shed in the name of God. The most beautiful regions of Europe—this garden of the world—are sown with bodies and ruins. There, where recently fields and factories thrived, cannon now roar in a frightful manner in a frenzy of demolition, sparing neither cities or villages and spreading the ravages of death. You who before God and men are charged with the grave responsibility of peace and war, listen to our prayer, listen to the fatherly voice of the vicar of the Eternal and Supreme Judge to whom you should give account of your public work as well as private action. The abundant riches which the creating God has given to your lands permits you to continue the contest; but at what a price, is the answer of thousands of young whose lives are lost each day on the battlefields and of the ruins of so many cities and villages, so many monuments due to the piety and genius of our forefathers. The bitter tears flow in the anxiety of homes and at the foot of altars, do they not also repeat that the price of the continuation of the contest is great, too great? And it can not be said that the immense conflict can not be ended without violence of arms. May this cease for destruction be abandoned; nations do not perish. Humiliated and oppressed, they tremblingly carry the yoke imposed on them and prepare their revenge, transmitting from generation to generation a sorrowful heritage of hate and vengeance.

"Why not now weigh with serene conscience the rights and just aspirations of the people? Why not start with good will a direct or indirect exchange of views with the object of considering as far as possible these rights and aspirations and thus put to an end the terrible combat, as has been the case previously under similar circumstances. Blessed be he who first extends the olive branch and tenders his hand to the enemy in offering him reasonable conditions of peace. The equilibrium of world progress and the security and tranquility of nations repose on mutual well-being and respect of the rights and dignity of others, more than on the number of armies and a formidable zone of fortresses.

"It is the cry of peace which issues from our supreme soul this day, and which invites the true friends of peace in the world to extend their hand to hasten the end of a war which for a year has transformed Europe into an enormous battlefield. May Jesus in his pity, by the intermediary of the Mother of Sorrows, end the terrible tempest and cause to arise a radiant dawn and the quietude of peace formed in his own divine image. May hymns of thanks to the Most High Author of all good things soon resound! Let us hope for the reconciliation of the States! May the peoples once again become brothers and return to their peaceful labor in arts, learning and industry! May once again the empire of peace be established! May the people decide henceforth to confine the solution of their differences no longer to the sword, but to courts of justice and equity, where the questions may be studied with necessary calm and thought! This will be the most beautiful and glorious victory. In confidence that the trees of peace will soon allow the world to enjoy again its fruits which are so much to be desired, we bestow our Apostolic benediction upon all those who are part of the mystic flock which is confided to our keeping, even as upon those who do not yet belong to the Roman church. We pray the Holy Father to use Himself to us by bonds of perfect charity."

INTO ETERNAL REST.

Dr. Thomas L. McDermott, member of the Board of Public Safety, brother of Lieut. Gov. Edward J. McDermott and one of the best known physicians in Louisville, passed peacefully away Sunday afternoon, following illness that extended over two years. His death is mourned throughout the city, especially by the poor, to whom he was well known for his many charitable and philanthropic acts. Dr. McDermott was born in Louisville, September 6, 1842, and was the son of William and Catherine Byrne McDermott. He received his early education at St. Joseph's College at Bardonia and later was graduated from the Bellevue Medical College in New York City. He was a member of the American Medical Society and the various medical societies of Louisville and Kentucky. Dr. McDermott was public spirited and for many years had been actively engaged in the civic and political advancement of his native city. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Clara Augusta McDermott; two daughters, Misses Alma and Blanche McDermott, Jr., and a brother, Lieut. Gov. Edward J. McDermott, to whom the people of the city tender their sympathy. The funeral was held Tuesday morning from St. Louis Bertrand's church, where the deceased had been a faithful communicant, and was attended by the city officials, public boards and a vast concourse of people as a last tribute of respect for one whom all respected.

ST. ELIZABETH'S DEDICATION.

Spiritual joy and happiness will reign throughout St. Elizabeth's parish tomorrow, when the new and handsome Church of St. Elizabeth of Hungary, East Burnett avenue, will be solemnly blessed and dedicated to the service of God. The dedicatory ceremonies will begin at 10 o'clock, when Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue will bless the edifice. Solemn Pontifical masses will follow immediately in the presence of the Bishop, who will preach the sermon. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock there will be solemn vespers, when the sermon will be by the Rev. Father Keller, assistant at St. Vincent de Paul's church. There will be many clergy present and the services will be brilliant and impressive, and in addition the musical programme will be one of the best ever rendered in this city. The new St. Elizabeth's is a most imposing church structure, taking rank with the largest in this section of the country, and will stand a fitting monument to the energy and zeal of the Rev. Father James Assent, the pastor, and his devoted people.

LEXINGTON.

John Houlihan, formerly of this city and a widely known insurance man, died at his home in Lexington last Saturday night, following an operation for appendicitis, leaving a wide circle of friends who mourn his death. He was stricken at his headquarters at Fort Wayne, and on his arrival at Lexington was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital. Mr. Houlihan was twenty-seven years old, and married Miss Elsie Carr, daughter of Frank B. Carr, district passenger agent at Lexington of the Louisville & Nashville railroad. He is survived by his wife and two children, John J., Jr., three years old, and Frances, sixteen months old; also his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Houlihan, a brother, Edward T. Houlihan, Jr., and a sister, Miss Nellie Houlihan, all of Lexington.

FEAST OF ST. DOMINIC.

There was an impressive observance of the Feast of St. Dominic on Wednesday at St. Louis Bertrand's church, Sixth street, when solemn high mass was sung by the Franciscan fathers from St. Boniface church. To commemorate the warm friendship which existed between St. Francis Assisi and St. Dominic, the two orders exchange courtesies on the feast day of their respective patron saints. The Franciscans officiate at the Dominican churches on the feast of St. Dominic, and on the feast of St. Francis the Dominicans conduct the services at the Franciscan churches.

OUTRAGE

Instigated by Rev. Dr. Lyman Beecher Eighty-One Years Ago.

Partial Reparation For Burning of Catholic Sisters' Convent.

Was the Only School For Girls in the Vicinity of Boston, Mass.

FOUNDATION GIFT OF CONVERT

By James A. Rooney, LL. D.
Dr. George Whiston Pepper, of Philadelphia, formerly professor of law in the University of Pennsylvania, last long ago delivered the fifth lecture in what is known as the Lyman Beecher course before the divinity school of Yale University. Among other interesting topics he referred at some length to the Catholic system of education, paying a remarkable tribute to its value, admitting and commending the excellence of the method of Catholic training and asserting that it was the best system yet devised. He even ventured the prediction that sooner or later the other religious bodies would be forced to follow the example of the Catholics.

All of which is as it should be. It was a generous and spontaneous expression of a candid opinion and is very gratifying, though not strictly news to us Catholics who for years have been supporting our own schools, academies and colleges besides contributing in taxes to the education of the children of our Protestant neighbors. But if the Lyman Beecher, in whose honor this lecture course is named, is the same Rev. Dr. Lyman Beecher, the New England bigot, who instigated the burning of the Ursulines' convent school at Mount Benedict, Charlestown, Mass., on the night of August 11, 1834, it occurred to me that the dry bones of the ruins and their system of teaching, if it was Benedict Joseph Fenwick, Bishop of Boston, who had secured this delightful location for the school and installed the Sisters there July 17, 1826, and that's why it was named Mount Benedict. The Ursulines began their work in Federal street in 1819, their foundation being promoted through a legacy left by Father John Thayer, himself a descendant of Puritans and the first native New Englander to be raised to the priesthood. After years of missionary work he died in Ireland on February 5, 1815, leaving his private fortune to found a Catholic school in Boston.

During Mount Benedict's eight years of existence everything was peaceful and the number of pupils had increased to fifty-five, who at the date of the outrage were in charge of ten Ursulines under Mother Mary Edward St. George. She was a Miss Grace O'Boyle, an Irish lady of fine intellectual attainments, of a commanding presence and a dauntless soul. This was the happy convent home of a cultured community and their pupils that was sacked, desecrated and hurled to the ground on the night of August 11, 1834, largely through the incendiary language of the Rev. Dr. Lyman Beecher, of the Hanover street Congregational church, Boston, a graduate of Yale, who had come to Boston in 1826 to combat the errors of Unitarianism, but later turned his batteries against Catholics. In a statement made by Mother Mary Keefe she said: "Our convent was attacked and destroyed by a ruthless mob goaded on by Dr. Lyman Beecher and the Protestant ministers of Boston and Charlestown." William A. Leady in his "History of the Archdiocese of Boston" says: "The preachers headed by Lyman Beecher harangued their audiences and the lower classes were worked upon by placards."

Subsequently the ringleaders of the mob, not including Beecher, were arrested, tried and acquitted by a Boston jury and their sympathizers fired a salute of fifty guns in front of Bunker Hill Tavern in honor of the event. Only one poor boy of seventeen was convicted, Malvin Marcy, who had nothing to do with the affair, and he was pardoned at the petition of Bishop Fenwick. Nor were the Ursulines ever reimbursed for the damage done their property and the blackened ruins were allowed to stand for forty years as a monument of reproach to the citizens of Massachusetts. So that Dr. Pepper, who in this year of Our Lord, 1915, went out of his way to say a good word for us Catholics and our system of education in the Lyman Beecher course, should be congratulated for what may be accepted as a partial though tardy reparation

RECENT DEATHS.

Monday Death's angel entered the homes of Harry and Mary Byrne, 1875 Letterlo avenue, and Patrick and Mamie Cain, 2830 Fourth avenue, taking from the former their infant daughter Mary, and from the latter their baby, Thomas Aquinas, both of whom were tenderly laid to rest in St. Louis cemetery.

Otto Kesselring, son of the late Emil and Bridget Kesselring, and nephew of Mrs. James Curran, 321 North Twenty-fifth street, died Saturday night of cerebral congestion. He was seventeen years old, of excellent character and popular with his associates. His funeral was held Monday morning with high mass of requiem at St. Cecilia's church.

St. Patrick's parish lost another of its faithful members when God summoned Mrs. Ellen Heffernan, whose death occurred at the home of her son, James J. Heffernan, 1426 West Jefferson street. Her funeral was held Monday morning at St. Patrick's church, attended by a large number of old friends and acquaintances, whom she was always ready to assist in sickness or misfortune.

Heart trouble superinduced by the extreme heat of Saturday caused the sudden death of Miss Eva Bertram at the home of her sister, Mrs. Catherine Meehan, 1917 Magazine street. Shortly before noon Miss Bertram complained of dizziness from the heat, then became unconscious and died before physicians reached her. The funeral services were held Monday morning at St. Anthony's church.

Friends and acquaintances feel the most heartfelt sympathy for the bereaved family of St. Anthony's church, 856 South Twenty-third street, whose home has been rendered desolate by the death of their four-year-old son Edward. The little fellow was the favorite in the neighborhood and bright beyond his years. The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Sacred Heart church, Rev. Father Kelly officiating, the mass and speaking words of consolation to the bereaved parents.

TWIN CITY LEAGUE.

The Bertrand-Knights of Columbus contest last Sunday will go down in local baseball circles as one of the best amateur games ever pulled off, being replete with sensational ball coupled with high-class pitching. Ray Haragan, of the Bertrands, struck out nineteen men, allowing eight hits, while Bohannon, of the K. of C., fanned twelve men and allowed ten hits, the game going eleven innings, the Bertrands winning 1 to 0. Another feature game was played between the Bertrands and the K. of C. at the home of the Bertrands, which it will take 23 to 13 finish, the Bertrands being exhausted from chasing long hits. The Champs continued their record by walloping the Olympics, while Bruins put it over on Trinity. Tomorrow the schedule is as follows: K. of C. vs. Imperials, Champs vs. Trinity, Bertrands vs. Maekin, and Bruins vs. Olympics. The standing to date:

The choir loft will be enlarged and a new marble sanctuary railing will replace the present one. Around the upper walls and framed in gothic arches will be life-size portraits of fourteen great saints, followers of the rule of St. Dominic. PRIMARY

At Hand With Three Candidates in the Gubernatorial Race.

Lieut. Gov. McDermott Should Be Chosen as Democratic Nominee.

His Nomination Means Success For Party in November Election.

OPPOSE RHEA AND TERRELL

The final speeches have been made in the gubernatorial contest for the Democratic nomination and it is now up to the voters to decide between McDermott, Stanley and McChesney for the standard-bearer, most of whom have had their minds made up for some time, the only changes being those who had been self-elected, yet when that conclusion was published Mr. Bosworth hastily wrote to the Kentucky Irish American and stated emphatically that he wished that statement deleted, that he was in the race to win and would be in at the finish.

The close of the campaign finds much discussion and bad feeling in the Democratic ranks because of the personalities indulged in between Stanley and McChesney camps, the latter being indignant at the hypocritical campaign conducted by the Halcyon-Bekham machine, which has been endeavoring to enlist a following of fanatical preachers and alarmists to boost their rubber stamp candidate into office on the hypocritical platform of prohibition. It has been charged and never denied that Percy Haly has boasted that he will have his preacher followers ringing the bells of their churches during election hours and prohibition suffragettes crowding about the polls to intimidate men in the event of Stanley's nomination it needs no prophet to tell that Haly and his followers will be found knifing the Democratic ticket in the general election. On the other hand it is a foregone conclusion and an absolute certainty that if McChesney is given the nomination the Democratic ticket will be given the worst defeat in years. And with the defeat of the State ticket will go every Democratic city and county ticket in the State of Kentucky.

The only safe and sane remedy and salvation for the Democratic party is the nomination of Lieut. Gov. McDermott, who emerges from this bitter campaign with a clear and unsullied record, his dignified and earnest campaign having entitled him to the support of every clear-headed and fair thinking Democrat in Kentucky. Lieut. Gov. McDermott stands head and shoulders above any other man in the Governor's race in either party, and his nomination and election would mean the advancement and assurance of a better and greater Kentucky. If given the Democratic nomination the election of the ticket would be assured in November by a large plurality, his selection bringing to the support of the party many business and professional men who usually vote independent in general elections. This fact should be given consideration by the Democrats of every faction and there should be no hesitancy in rallying to his support, as the nomination of Lieut. Gov. McDermott is equivalent to election in November. Right here in this district the friends of the Lieutenant Governor have been working early and late to secure a banner vote and it is believed when the returns are in Saturday night that they can naught but feel proud over the result.

During the past week the Halcyon-Bekham machine has been forced to leave the McChesney campaign in the hands of the prohibitionists, while Percy has brought a pulmotor into service to revive interest in the campaign of Rhea and Terrell, both being groggy under the severe blows administered by Bob Greene and Sherman Goodpastor. While many Democrats throughout the State have been fooled by the prohibition agitation, yet the majority can see the nigger in the woodpile when the machine advocates support of Rhea and Terrell on the grounds of a "better Kentucky," etc., and Percy's favorites are marked for defeat. There has been an attempt to hoodwink the voters of this district into supporting the two machine choices, but the attempt has been a failure, no power being available to wean them away from support of Greene and Goodpastor. Another anti-machine candidate who will receive a big vote here is Alvin Steger, candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, his opponent being brought out at the eleventh hour because Steger would not bow the knee to Haly.

BUNDLE PARTY.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., furnished a novel entertainment for its members following the regular business meeting Wednesday evening at their hall, a "bundle party" being the feature, which was heartily enjoyed, and in response to many requests another will be given in the near future. The Entertainment Committee reported that the recent picture show entertainment was a financial success and that they have in contemplation a dance, the exact date and place to be announced later. The auxiliary is growing in membership and the officers are hoping to have another big initiation before fall.

CALLAHAN A DIRECTOR.

With 5,000 visitors present the national convention of the Knights of Columbus at Seattle was opened with high mass Tuesday morning in St. James Cathedral, the church being too small to accommodate the throng that sought admission. That night a public reception was tendered Archbishop John Bonzano, Papal Delegate to the United States. The Apostolic Delegate addressed the delegates at the first business session on locally and cosmopolitanism, urging members of the order to emulate the knights of old in standing for the right under all circumstances. He began the fight of the order against Socialism. "No worldly interest," said Archbishop Bonzano, "must prevent a Knight of Columbus from openly proclaiming himself a Catholic, proud of the glory of being a member of the great church of the ages. Recent history shows that all your aspirations, even your patriotism, may be suspected because of your religion. But be not afraid to stand up and say that your religion is its own defense. That in the principles of your Catholic religion lies the very strength and vigor of your loyalty and devotion to your country; that a Catholic's fidelity to his religion is the measure of his citizenship; that the American constitution is sacred to you and second only to the constitution of God as outlined in the gospels; and that while you show respect to the authority that guides the eternal destinies of your immortal souls, you thereby all the more submissively bow to that authority that directs your material welfare. Foster the spirit of cosmopolitanism, especially in this country, made up, as it is, of men of all nations and colors and all creeds. Combat racial distrust and racial division. Foster the spirit of solidarity, the spirit of brotherhood. By this the weak are strengthened and the strong are encouraged to greater effort. Aim to destroy those evils that threaten modern society. How nobly and well have you fought the cause of right against Socialism. Against this and its associate evils go forward to do and die."

Wednesday James A. Flaherty, of Philadelphia, now serving his fourth term, was the unanimous choice for Supreme Knight. The other Supreme officers were re-elected unopposed, as follows: Deputy Supreme Knight, M. H. Carmody, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Supreme Secretary, William J. McInley, New York; Supreme Treasurer, D. J. Callahan, Washington, D. C.; Supreme Advocate, Joseph C. Pelletier, Boston; Supreme Physician, Dr. E. W. Buckley, St. Paul; Supreme Chaplain, the Rev. P. J. McGowan, Bridgeport, Conn.; Supreme Warden, Thomas J. McLaughlin, Newark, N. J. These members of the Supreme Board of Directors were chosen: W. P. Larkin, New York; William J. Mulligan, Thomasville, Conn.; John F. Martin, Green Bay, Wis.; P. J. McCarthy, Toledo, Ohio; Col. P. H. Callahan, Louisville, Ky. Much of the day's first session was occupied by discussion of the report of the Committee on Religious Prejudice.

DON'T FORGET THIS.

The Uniform Rank, Catholic Knights of America, expect that their excursion to Tell City, which takes place tomorrow, the train leaving the Tenth street depot at 7:45 in the morning, will eclipse any that has left Louisville this season. Both here and in Tell City committees have been making elaborate preparation for this event, and a royal welcome awaits the excursionists in the Indiana City. The Knights of Tell City will meet the Louisville people and escort them to the public park, where the reception will be held. The trip from Hawesville will be by boat and will be a nice ride down the river. Any who desire to spend part of the day in Hawesville, Cannellton or Tell City The round trip fare will be only $1.65.

CHANGES AMONG PRIESTS.

Announcement was made Saturday of several changes among the clergy of the Covington diocese. Rev. Father Ennis, who has been assistant pastor of St. Paul's church at Lexington, goes to the Cathedral in Covington, while Father Fey, of the Church of the Immaculate Conception at Newport, will succeed him at St. Paul's. Rev. Father Curry has been transferred to Richmond to succeed Rev. Father O'Brien, who becomes pastor of the Covington Cathedral.

ST. ALOYSIUS PICNIC.

Next Wednesday is the date of the annual picnic of St. Aloysius church of Pewee Valley and many citizens of this section will attend, having in mind the splendid treatment and entertainment given in the past. An elegant country dinner and supper will be served by the ladies, and their guests will be more than satisfied with the bountiful repast which is to be spread in country style. In addition to spending an enjoyable day those from the city can rest assured that they will be performing a worthy act of charity in attending and contributing their mite to help this struggling little parish.

"SINJUN"

Youngest Son of One of the Most Gifted Irish Families of Louisville.

Father St. John O'Sullivan Has Rode Irish Limits in Kentucky.

Officiated at Marriage of Little Mary Pickford and Owen Moore.

LOVES HIS SOUTHERN HOME

Many will be interested in the following from the Syracuse Catholic Sun because of its local bearing. The Father O'Sullivan referred to is the son of Patrick O'Sullivan, who for years conducted a shoe shop on Fifth street, opposite the Cathedral, and is a brother of Building Inspector William O'Sullivan.

Everybody feels an interest in the fact that "Little Mary Pickford" became a Catholic, and that she and her husband, Owen Moore, were married according to the rites of the Catholic church, in the ancient and historic monastery of San Juan Capistrano, California. Perhaps the marriage thus solemnized in such a hallowed sanctuary gives a brighter glow to the general admiration turned on Mary Pickford, and of course we rejoice that applause and the galaxy of filmland have left her so unspooled and unworried wise. But our interest reaches beyond Mary and Owen, her husband, and fastens on the slight figure of the parish priest, Father St. John O'Sullivan, whose frail body could not withstand the intensity of the flame of the soul and who has sent how many years ago to balmy California, to breathe in healing to his poor lungs from every sun ray, fragrant breeze and ocean air? Youngest son of one of the most gifted families in the South, brother to two other priests who rode the parish limits in Kentucky Catholic fields, who were not only priests, but legal advisers and trusted mediators, whose word was the last resource in any argument. A member of a gifted family was Father St. John. One went abroad and was heard in the royal courts as a famous piano virtuoso, his "Islandaise" forming one of the most compelling suites of melody ever dedicated to the glory of Ireland. One, a priest, was widely known, under a pen name, as an author of the folk lore of Kentucky; he was a regular contributor to the Midland Review in the days when Dr. Charles J. O'Malley made that Louisville weekly a center of nearly all the Catholic literary talent of the South. Another brother was abroad, studying the organ and eager and wild with the wilful music that seared in his soul the grandeur of the most and sweeping cadences of the night, least of instruments. How little heard in these days of the semi-heard! Now, where are all the kindred souls whose names are in the mists of the past? They start into a clearer vision at the reading of the name of the parish priest of San Juan Capistrano. It is he who has been as much at home in the Spanish tongue as in his own; it is he whose love of music has made him an interpreter of the songs the Spanish hombo sings in his adobe hut to his wife or children, or it is his sweet heart? Father O'Sullivan understands them and their real life is his. In the old monastery are chests of documents that are unknown to the rabble of historical writers. Yet therein are facts that would interest the whole world, and Father O'Sullivan reads them. So Father O'Sullivan, the parish priest of San Capistrano, married Mary Pickford to Owen Moore? Mary, you are an honored girl, but we are afraid you did not know that you were being blessed by a priest whose knowledge is so profound that it is a wonder his frail body can support so much. Nor did you know perhaps that his name is as proud a one as the Irish race knows; nor did you know that as much as he loves his monastery, he loves more his Southern home, from which he is an exile on account of health. We feel that Mary Pickford has touched a golden marking along the pilgrimage of her life.

KAUFF-KOLB.

One of the prettiest of the mid-summer weddings took place Wednesday afternoon at the Cathedral, when the Rev. Father Rock pronounced the words uniting Miss Margaret Kauff and J. Alton Kolb. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left on a wedding trip to North Carolina, followed by the best wishes of a legion of friends for a long and happy life. Upon their return they will be at home at 1623 Bardonia road.

NEW ALBANY.

The funeral of Thomas Egan, an old and respected resident of New Albany, was held Tuesday morning at Holy Trinity church, of which was long a regular communicant. Mr. Egan was sixty-six years of age and is survived by a son, Egan, and three daughters, Mary Egan, of New Albany, Sister Mary Francis, of New Albany, and Sister Mary Pauline, of Terre Haute.

McDERMOTT RANKS FIRST.

Lieut. Gov. E. J. McDermott stands shoulders above any other contestant in the race for the Democratic nomination for Governor, his executive ability and statesmanship being recognized by all. His opponents and all recognize that he has made an admirable Lieutenant Governor, and that he has always been in the forefront of any movement for the good or betterment of the State. His unselfish services deserve gratitude and recognition, and this should come first from the Democratic party.

PRAYS FOR PEACE.

Archbishop John Bonzano, Papal Delegate to the United States, while declining to be interviewed by the Western papers the past week, gave the following statement to the press about the war, which plainly states the Catholic position:

"I pray for peace. The most that we can do, we of the church, is to pray that peace may come. It is the fervent wish of every Catholic churchman and is the sentiment of the whole Roman Catholic body. With the causes of the war, responsibility for it, reclamation concerning it, we can not deal. What we can do and are doing is to pray for a cessation of the fighting and a return of the marching legions to peaceful pursuits. I think it improper to discuss the issues concerning the governments of this and other countries at this time. But it gratifies me to express confidence in the wisdom of President Wilson, in the sincerity of his desire to preserve peace and of the earnestness of his efforts for the good of all humanity."

FEDERATION PRINCIPLES.

The American Federation of Catholic Societies, which will hold its fourteenth annual convention at Toledo during the week beginning August 15, and at which the Louisville Federation will be represented, is an organization of Catholics in the United States for the purpose of advancing their civil, social and religious interests. It is not a political organization and does not control the political affiliations of its members; it asks no favors or privileges, but openly proclaims what is just and fair. It aims at the creation of sound public opinion on important topics of the day; it stands for the Christian life of the nation itself; for the proper observance of Sunday; for the Christian education of youth; for the stamping out of immorality; for the sanctity and perpetuity of Christian marriage; for the safeguarding of the Christian home. It asserts the necessity of Christian principles in social and public life, in the State, in business, in all financial and industrial relations. It combats all errors which are in opposition to Christianity and threatens to undermine the very foundation of human society. It is willing to co-operate with all loyal citizens and with all civil and social energies which work for truth and virtue. It exposes falsehood and injustice, whether in misrepresentation of history, doctrine or principles of morality. The aims of the Federation therefore are religious and patriotic; they are the interest of all American citizens, and especially of those who believe in a Divine Lawgiver and in the revelation of a divine religion through Christ our Saviour.

FRIENDS OF PEACE.

The Friends of Peace, a federation of numerous affiliated American organizations, originating in New York and San Francisco, have issued a call for a national peace convention to be held in Chicago on September 5 and 6, culminating in a grand peace demonstration on Labor day. The immediate object of the convention, it is stated, will be to protest against America's entry into the war, to appoint committees to visit the belligerent nations in the hope of bringing the war to an early termination, and to urge a special session of Congress to consider the advisability of placing an embargo on all war supplies. The convention will be attended by delegates from all parts of the country, and it is expected to be one of the largest ever held in America. The religious, political and organizational groups are going to make up

SHERMAN GOODPASTER.

Sherman Goodpaster, of Owingsville, present State Inspector and Examiner, candidate for the nomination of State Treasurer, has been well received by Democrats in every district, who see in him a valuable asset for the Democratic ticket and believe that he should be selected at the primary. Mr. Goodpaster is one of the best known of the younger Democrats and is a native of Bath County, which has given a nice Democratic majority in the last several elections. Mr. Goodpaster has served twice as County Attorney, resigning to accept appointment by Gov. McCreary as State Inspector and Examiner, the office he now holds. In the latter capacity he has been most energetic in compelling settlements with the State and requiring the proper and economical handling of the State funds.

His courageous attitude in regard to the financial administration of State and county officers and departments was recognized with approval on more than one occasion during the 1914 session of the General Assembly. Concerning his record and reports to the General Assembly the State press has frequently commented editorially on his capable management of the affairs of his office, and his reports on the various State institutions were used extensively by the last General Assembly in obtaining information regarding the management and cost of conducting same.

The State Treasurer by virtue of his office is a member of the Board of Valuation and Assessment, the Sinking Fund Commission and the Printing Commission, the importance of these boards, and more particularly the Board of Valuation and Assessment, having a direct influence on the one vital function of the State Government, which is well known to every citizen of the State, necessitating the selection of competent and efficient men for the board. If nominated and elected Mr. Goodpaster would surely give a faithful and painstaking account and would, without prejudice or bias, endeavor to see that the assessment of property, which by law is assessed by the Board of Valuation and Assessment, be done in strict conformity to the laws enacted for that purpose, without fear or favor.

Members of the General Assembly from this district in particular, and those having official business in Frankfort, are loud in their praises of Mr. Goodpaster's efficient handling of the office of State Inspector and Examiner, and Jefferson County, the banner Democratic district of the State, is sure to give him a nice testimonial vote in the primary. This also applies to other districts, judging by the comments in the State press, and from present indications Mr. Goodpaster's election is assured.

O'BRIEN'S POPULARITY.

The friends of John J. O'Brien are predicting a big majority in his race for the Democratic nomination for Magistrate in the Eighth Material district, and it is related that one of the organizers for a certain gubernatorial candidate reported at his headquarters that it was useless to canvass in the south end of the Eighth, Ninth and Tenth wards, as they were interested in only one candidate, and that was O'Brien for Magistrate.

AWFUL DEATH.
Burkhard Recktenwald, President of the Recktenwald Hardware Company, 2512 Portland avenue, and one of the most highly esteemed residents of the West End, met an awful fate on Friday morning of last week, when he fell head foremost into a tank of coal tar, where his lifeless body was found by Eugene McLaughlin. The unfortunate man left his home, 2418 Bank street, at 6:15 o'clock to open the store, and when discovered less than an hour later the body was still warm. Soon the news spread over the city and everywhere was received with expressions of deep regret. Relatives and friends expressed the belief that while making an inspection of the tar and oil tanks he was stricken with heart prostration or paralysis and fell head foremost into the tar.

Mrs. Recktenwald is survived by his widow, Mrs. Johanna Recktenwald; his father, Michael Recktenwald; a retired hardware man; three sons, Otto, Anthony and Edmund Recktenwald; three daughters, Misses Clara, Cecelia and Rita Recktenwald, and three brothers, the Rev. Father Otto Recktenwald, of Grand Rapids; B. A. Recktenwald, of Pittsburgh, and H. A. Recktenwald, with whom he was associated in business. He was a member of St. Cecilia's church, from where the funeral took place Monday morning.

PETER'S PENCE.
Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue has issued an appeal, and tomorrow the annual collection for the Holy Father, known as the Peter's Pence, will be taken up at the masses in all the churches of the Louisville diocese. Announcement of this collection was made by the pastors last Sunday, who stated the disadvantages that surround Pope Benedict because of the European war and urged the people to respond to the appeal as generously as possible.

AUGUST INTENTION.
The general intention recommended by Pope Benedict XV. for the League of the Sacred Heart during the month of August is the conversion of Protestants. Our Holy Father points out to us the duty of prayer. During this month of August he bids us offer up all our prayers and works and sufferings that God may hasten the day for the return of all Protestants to the Catholic faith, that was deserted by their ancestors. Catholics can help by giving to their non-Catholic neighbors the example of holy lives, by being ready to explain their religion, and by co-operating with the Catholic press in the spread of Catholic books, Catholic magazines and Catholic papers.

The newest hats, for eccentricity's sake purely, are made of silk or even velvet.

Gloves are indispensable, and despite all fads for freak gloving nothing is more attractive than the wash white gloves.

FOR WOMAN'S EYE.
Of all the season's hats the sailor is the most popular.
The warm weather brings an enormous showing of cottons.
Of all white wash materials the white plique is the most satisfactory.
White shoes in the city were once considered in bad taste, but not so now.
The soft, low collars come in as a benediction after the up-to-the-ears stocks.
The most bewitching of all the new sunshades are those of lingerie and lace.
The newest hats, for eccentricity's sake purely, are made of silk or even velvet.
Sunshades of plain sheer organdy, white or tinted, are pretty accessories for organdy hats and frocks.
Late-season hats show many feather trimmings, but flowers and ribbons are favorites as midsummer trimmings.
Gloves are indispensable, and despite all fads for freak gloving nothing is more attractive than the wash white gloves.

PROF. V. O. GILBERT

Candidate For Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The supporters of Prof. V. O. Gilbert, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Superintendent of Public Instruction, claim that his candidacy is appealing favorably to the voters in every section of the State and are unanimous in saying that his record as Assistant Superintendent entitles him to the nomination, believing that he should be endorsed for the position. Prof. Gilbert's service of over thirty years in the cause of education has well fitted him for the position to which he now aspires, serving as teacher, County Superintendent, City Superintendent and for more than six years as a member of the Western Kentucky State Normal School. His platform appeals to the citizens of all classes and is as follows:

"First—To administer the office of State Superintendent as economically as it can be done, consistent with efficiency.

"Second—To co-operate with the County Superintendents of the State, and to aid them in every possible way in the great work of building up an efficient system of schools. My policy shall always be to help, not to hinder.

"Third—To make the department of education serve the classified cities in every possible way. To this end I shall seek for ways to serve the city boards of education and city departments.

"Fourth—To co-operate in every possible way with the boards of which the State Superintendent may be a member.

"Fifth—To the organization of courses of study, so as to adjust the educational machinery and work of the schools to the practical living needs of the community at large, and to hold constantly before the children examples of temperance, culture and good citizenship.

"Sixth—To co-operate especially with the illiteracy commission. The State Superintendent is made by law a member of this commission, and I shall most heartily co-operate with the commission in its great work of eliminating adult illiteracy and illiteracy in general."

SID DOUTHITT

Candidate for Railroad Commissioner Subject to Action of Democratic Party.

Sid Douthitt, of Henry county, is receiving much encouragement in his race for the Democratic nomination for Railroad Commissioner in the Second district, and claims that he will receive a substantial plurality in the August primary. Mr. Douthitt has been Circuit Clerk of Henry county for the past twelve years and has obtained a following in that section, who are now boosting his candidacy for Railroad Commissioner. He is known all over the State to the many Democratic leaders in every section, all paying tribute to him as an official and citizen. Mr. Douthitt is a man who is in every way qualified for the position he seeks. He has great executive ability, is one of the best posted men of the day, a splendid man of affairs, and above all he is a Democrat whose devotion to his party makes him one of the best workers it has. He would make a fine Commissioner, and wherever he goes during his campaign his popularity follows and overtakes him.

FONTAINE FERRY PARK.

Singer's Midgates are to remain another week in Louisville. Commencing with the matinee tomorrow at the Fontaine Ferry Park Theater they open the fourth week of their engagement. A number of changes will be found in the programme and the songs which were so pleasingly sung last week have been changed and a new repertoire will be offered. The management has been offering two high class Orpheum acts in addition to the Midgates and this week Louis London and Marie Henning will occupy the positions. A new programme of free outdoor moving pictures will be offered in the park, and Eva Korh Gleason will open a week's engagement as the special bandstand attraction.

MUIR WEISSINGER

Making Active Canvass for Nomination of Judge Circuit Court, Common Pleas Branch.

Extremely fortunate are the Democrats of Louisville and Jefferson county in the person and character of Muir Weissinger, a candidate who solicits their support for his nomination to the Circuit Judgeship of Common Pleas branch, Fourth division, in the Democratic primary, August 7.

He comes from a line of able lawyers, capable jurists and staunch Democrats. His grandfather, P. B. Muir, for years occupied the Circuit bench in this district, being the first Judge of the Common Pleas branch. His uncle, Upton W. Muir, during two terms as Judge of the Circuit Court added credit and distinction to the bench. Not unworthy of these distinguished ancestors is the present candidate, called after fourteen years of honorable and successful practice at the local bar to the bench of the County Court, where he acquitted himself with honor and merit. A friend of the needy, he secured the erection of a comfortable County Poor House for the unfortunate; a true servant of the taxpayers, he with the aid of others foiled an attempt of the State Board of Equalization to lay an additional burden of $300,000 on the property holders of this county; a sincere lover of dependent children, helped by others he led the fight which ensued in the establishment of the Parental Home for Orphans and Neglected Children at Ormsby Station, Jefferson county. Such in brief is the honorable ancestry and proud record of Muir Weissinger, a sterling Democrat, ever supporting his party's candidates at the polls and frequently fighting for them on the stump; such is Muir Weissinger, a broad-minded citizen too fair to be swayed by blind prejudice or partisan zeal. Vote therefore for him; place in line for the Judgeship of the Common Pleas branch, Division four, a man noted for honesty and integrity, a determined foe of that unholy bigotry which arrays race against race, which puts creed in opposition to creed. His nomination will add weight to the ticket, energy to the campaign and help insure success to his party in the November election.

ROBERT L. GREENE.

From present indications and reports heard from different sections of the State Robert L. (Bob) Greene will be returned the winner in the contest for the Democratic nomination for Auditor, and this result is a tribute to the personal popularity of this capable official, who by his conduct as a citizen and public official has won many friends from every part of Kentucky. "Bob" Greene is entirely too well known to the people of Kentucky to cause the necessity of any extended introduction, having been connected with the Clerk of the Court of Appeals office for the past twenty years, being head of that office since January, 1912. In selecting Mr. Greene as a standard bearer the party will make no mistake, as he is sure to add much strength to the ticket in the November election and his ability as an organizer will aid in insuring an old time Democratic majority.

ARTHUR M. WALLACE.

Democrats from every section of the city are rallying to the support of Arthur M. Wallace. In his race for the Democratic nomination for Judge of the First division, Chancery branch, Jefferson Circuit Court, and his candidacy has been endorsed by many ward clubs and precinct organizations. Judge Wallace's long service as a campaigner and worker in the ranks of the party entitles him to the honor he seeks and his friends are leaving no stone unturned to insure his election.

K. OF G. OUTING.

The annual outing of the local Knights of Columbus will take place at Fern Grove on Thursday, August 19, two boats to leave in the morning at 9 and 9:45 o'clock. In order to confine the affair to members and their families tickets will be sold only at the club house and none can be had on the morning of the excursion at the boat or on the wharf. Chairman Thomas Tarry announces that this is done in accordance with a resolution adopted to confine the excursion to members and families, the outings in the past few years being distinguished for the number of outsiders who absorbed all the privileges to the exclusion of the members.

ALVIN STEGER

Making Winning Race for Clerk of the Court of Appeals Nomination.

Alvin Steger, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, was in town this past week and reports that he is entirely satisfied with the progress of his campaign thus far and predicts that he will be the winner in the August primary. His friends throughout the State are working unceasingly in his behalf and have perfected a splendid organization from one end of the State to the other. They claim that his strength comes from all factions in the party because of the fact that he represents no special interests or machine, and if elected the policy or conduct of his office can not be dictated by malign or unscrupulous influences. In this, the Fifth district, Mr. Steger has won many friends by his gentlemanly canvass, and it goes without saying that he will receive a banner vote in the primary.

G. B. LIKENS

Making Active Canvass of State for Nomination for Secretary of State.

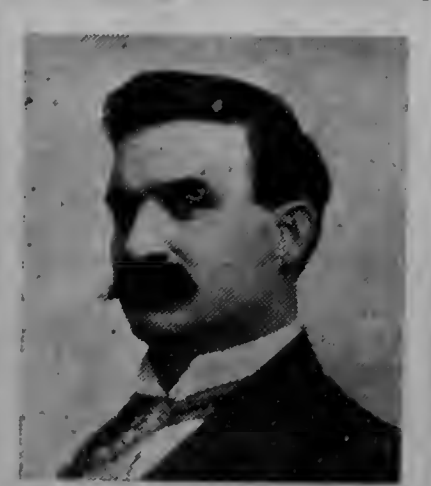

After making a tour of fourteen counties in Western Kentucky, a prominent member of the Democratic party brings back to headquarters the cheering news to Gabe Likens' friends that that gentleman can't be defeated in his race for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State in the August primary. "Gabe" like Holman, of Indiana, has proven himself a worthy trustee of the taxpayers' funds through his zealous watch-care over the treasury of the Bluegrass Commonwealth. From Paducah, hospitable capital of McCracken county, to historical Mammoth Cave, in good old Edmonson, every man, woman and child is "whooping things" up for Mr. Likens, who is proving himself a campaigner of the first constellation. Many leaders in the party say that his selection as a nominee will add strength to the ticket in November and no active in his behalf because of that aid to the party.

R. S. EUBANK.

He is the man whose sympathies are with children, and whose greatest activities have been exercised in improving educational conditions for the country child. His County School Board law has made possible the education of country children, through the county high school, while residing under their parents' roof, and it conserves the people's money by bringing educational opportunity to them. This law has done more to remove the public schools from politics than any other law on the statute. The people are with Mr. Eubank in his race for the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction, because his heart is with them, and his best efforts have been directed in their behalf. He has used his own time and paid his own expenses when securing the passage of measures which have benefited the public schools.
